Community Development & Health Network

Reflective Practice

Participants learn how to critically reflect on their practice. They have the opportunity to learn how to write case stories using CDHN's reflective case story template.